

Twenty Four Sermons on Various Useful Subjects (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from Twenty Four Sermons on Various Useful Subjects The first idea, which occurs to mind on reading these words, is, that the psalmist feels disposed to bless God for his existence; not only that he has an existence, but that he has such an existence. I will praise thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made. He was meditating upon the mysterious and wonderful formation of his body in the womb, how curiosity every part was formed, according to the all perfect pattern in the divine, book. And to the attentive and philosophic mind, the formation of the human body appears to be a work of surprising power and wisdom, far surpassing the reach of our comprehension.
