

The Miracles of Our Lord: Expository and Homiletic (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from The Miracles of Our Lord: Expository and Homiletic It has long seemed to the writer that there was room for such treatment of the Gospel Miracles as is here offered. Since the two Series of Notes by the late Archbishop of Dublin became the cherished possession of every preacher, the Parables and the Miracles of our Lord have been more than ever favourite topics of pulpit and class prelection. Trenchs Notes on the Parables has been followed up during the last twenty years by many valuable expositions from the British and Continental press. The Notes on the Miracles, on the other hand, has remained almost the only available book of its kind. Recent theological literature teems with excellent treatises on this theme from the apologetic and philosophical side. It is sufficient to name those of Canon Mozley and Professor Bruce.
